

Privacy Notice

The Kidney Research Data Portal signposts researchers to data sets available for research purposes.

It is managed by the University of Leicester as the Data Processor at the request of Kidney Research UK as the Data Controller, with compliance to UK law and GDPR regulations.

We ask for your name, email address, job title and organisation to administer the information you provide and make this available for others to contact you to explore making use of the dataset for research.